Datasite Diligence
Q&A

Replace your existing Q&A tracker

Deals move fast. You can't count on emails and spreadsheet trackers to manage your due diligence. Even the most experienced deal-makers have a hard time juggling the numerous questions and answers from the different deal teams.

You need a single tool that can do it all. Datasite Diligence Q&A gives Question and Answer teams the power to communicate much more effectively throughout the due diligence process, keeping buyers more engaged while reducing risk and the overall deal time.

Get set up in no time

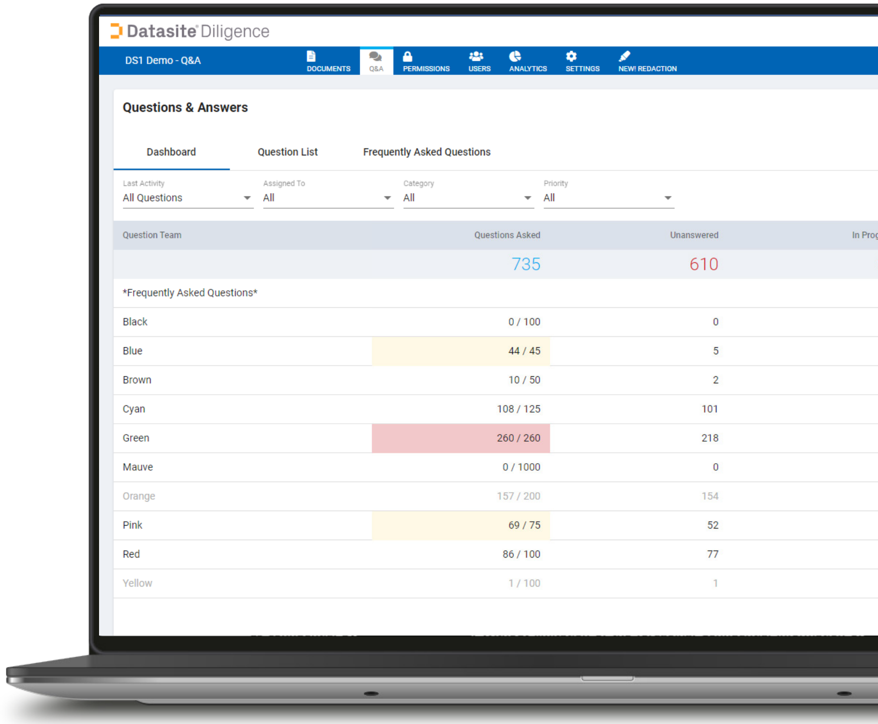
- Admins can set up Q&A quickly and intuitively by adding teams, question categories, question limits and even customising workflows to determine who will receive, answer & approve incoming questions.
- Question & Answer teams can both upload questions from Excel, using the bulk import capabilities and simple question templates.

Have greater transparency into the Q&A process

- Track every action in your Q&A process from a centralized dashboard.
- Set automatic email alerts for your team, so everyone knows the status of Q&A, and what they need to do.
- Link Q&A teams to deal documents and monitor interest & activity.
- Stay in control—add question limits, deactivate individuals & teams, and reject or re-route questions to keep things moving.
- Create and save FAQs quickly & easily.

Enjoy better results for all parties

- Permissioned users can find questions and answers with intuitive search and filtering, and export a detailed extract of Q&A to Excel at any time.
- Assign questions or change categories in just two clicks.
- Answer teams can spot high-volume questions, categories, and sources via analytics, to find your biggest buyers and key areas of interest.



Work smarter and get your deal done faster with Datasite Q&A.
